Here's what some of our current partners say about the benefits of working with us;

Business Industrial Solutions gearing up for their Welsh Three Peaks Challenge.

Supporting the Hospice has been very rewarding and enjoyable for BIS and has delivered huge benefits to us as a business. The main priority is to raise vital funds for the Hospice which we are passionate about but in addition to this it has delivered other benefits including brand awareness through social media campaigns and an opportunity to support the local community and the people within our organisation and the individual teams. It has bought our teams together and created a level of team building within work and also outside of work while attending and supporting events for the hospice. Julie and the entire team at the hospice are hugely supportive and I would encourage any organisation no matter how big or small to become involved with the Hospice as the rewards for everyone involved are huge.
